(TAKEN FROM THE REPORT.)

"I have critically and in detail examined the policy register, cash book, journal and ledgers of the association, inclusive of its memorandum and individual policy ledgers books are correspondence, the minutes of its directors' meetings, its contracts with and cash on hand. The examination of the association is certificates of deposits, vouchers, conjunction with Chas. E. King, Esq. Deputy Superintendent of the Insurance Department of Missouri, whose certificate is hereunto attached." (TAKEN FROM THE REPORT.)

REMARKS ON THE POLICIES.

"The average amount of policies of the association is more than double the average mount of all policies in force against all life insurance companies reporting to the assrance Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts, and the average amount of the remium on each of its policies is more than treble the amount on the policies of all there companies combined."

REMARKS ON THE ASSETS.

"It ought to be observed that in the foregoing abstract of the assets of the Life Association of America, no item of a questionable character has been admitted. Accordance of the first of the state of this report the bulk of this item has been earlied inside, although, at the date of this report the bulk of this item has been actual and realized asset, by United States 5-20s and Union Pacific Railroad bonds, which, therefore, in a state met under this date, would have to be admitted as a legitimate asset, under the head-been somewhat swelled by the introduction of a few-items, such as interest due and actual and internal revenue and postage stamps on hand, furniture, &c., but-list of which is hereunto annexed, and the absolute ownership of which is established by the supposite of their introduction. As to the securities, a descriptive by the subjoined affidavit of Henry W. Hough, Esq., Vice President, and Wm. Hauley, Leq., Secretary of the Association, I have no hesitancy in expressing my conviction of the supposition of the securities.

sarily make the conduct of the business expensive, often to the detriment of the insuring public—(For Arends.)

A careful investigation of its commission account compared with the provisions of its contracts with agents reveals the rather starting fact that of its $20,464,600 of risk, over ten millions are not chargeable with any future commissions, $4,500,700 with only one renewal commission, and only about 25 per cent. of the whole business, viz. 35, under aimilar categories, I find $64,900 of premiums discharged from all future commissions, over $244,000 chargeable with unse renewal commission, and the remainder with continued commissions. The facts here referred to are so unusual that I thought it unjust to pass them by in allence, and I deem it but a tribute of justice to the officers and employee of the Association to add that I sound its books and all other documents that I had occosion to examine kept with such admirable system, and on such task of this investigation, and to enable up to complete it in a much shorter time than rangement. Gratified at the very satisfactory result of my investigation, and hoping that this raport may receive your approval. I have the boose to sign myself, very respectfully.

IMPORTANT.

Nearly the whole of the premium income of all life companies is charges ble with continued commission of five to ten per cent., which is paid year after year to the agents who procured the business. It will be seen by the foregoing official remarks that about three-fourths of the entire business of the Association in free from this on"When the income is large, say, for instance, $1,000,000 per annum, commissions of $475,000 per annum for collection. In the same of the 'Life Association,' those an use premium income on almost reaches the sum of a million and a half of dollars, nearly $150,000 of the money of its policy-holders. But for the sake of prospective the officers of the Association, animated by the spirit of a viac economy, I think, orathat were entitled to continued renewal commissions during the persistence of the premium receipts of the Association, for what I deem a very moderate present continued. The result and right to the same, thus freeing alrage portion of the future premium receipts of the Association, for what I deem a very moderate present consideration, from the burdensome charges to which the business of most companies is subject. The result achieved by this process, which is eachietally termed Commutation, for Commissions, is gratifying in the highest degree, and forms, considering the age of the Association, one of its most noteworthy feat, area. As a Ta as I have examined the business of your company, the system of commutations here spoken of

The Frightful Result of a Family Quarrel.

A man named John Weismer was presented before the City Court yesterday for abuse of windows, to the great terror of her and nor nittee daughter.

The family before the war was in good circum-stances, he an industries and hard-working man, and she a loving and duiful wife. But when the war broke out he was carried a way by the gene-sal excitement and joined the army. He was may for years together, fachting under the banner of the North, and she seldom received any news from him or of his whereabouts. During one of these long absences she became short o means, and was driven almost to begary. Noth ing but absolute siarvation seemed to be the fail of her and her child. In one of these days of destitution and distress, a compter, worse that the familine, came, and she fell. He entice i he
